

*Saudi Arabian Permanent Mission
To the United Nations
New York*

بَيْتِ السُّعُودِيَّةِ
بِحُدَاةِ

Khalid A. Al-Nafisee

After graduating from the University of Arizona in 1973 with a BS in Chemical Engineering; Mr. Nafisee served with the Saudi Army Corp of Engineers as 1st Lt. Engineer, before joining C.F. Braun Company, an engineering firm in California, where he worked until 1976.

Mr. Nafisee is an active member of various organizations. In 1995 he was appointed Chairman of the Board of Petrolube, an Aramco joint venture with Exxon-Mobil to manufacture and market lube oil in and out of the Kingdom. He is also Chairman of the Petrotech 2001 Conference. He attended several international conferences around the world.

Mr. Nafisee enjoys an active lifestyle with his family of five. He is a keen all-around sportsman and likes to play football, run and workout at the gym. Another of his favorite hobbies is scuba diving, and when time allows, he enjoys nothing better than visiting the many marvelous dive sites around the world.